Disco

Disco is intended to amuse, develop switch skills and develop the understanding of cause and effect. The images and animations in the program are specifically chosen for older children, adolescents and adults. The activity level ranges from a single press to gain an animated reward, to many key presses to build up a scene.

Win

The ultimate musical cause/effect music program, totally appropriate for all ages, but really targeted at teenagers. There's plenty of fun dancing on the screen and the music is RADICAL. This disk is usable at a slightly higher than cause/effect level also and comes with a large variety of songs, or you can easily record your own (Win/Mac). The 3 modes let you target cause/effect or allow the user to be the DJ

Program Songs I Sing at Preschool More on Songs I Sing at Preschool

ST-SIS CD

Who says learning has to be boring? Research indicates that children learn best when music is linked to words. Our students love to hear the songs in Songs I Sing at Preschool. The rhymes, rhythms and repetition stimulate their vocabulary and language skills. You can start with the student's favorite song, move it to new locations and gradually add others. Use Songs I Sing at Preschool to do assessment, training, thematic teaching, classrooms singing and just for fun! A must for every preschool classroom.

Program Wheels on the Bus More on Wheels on the Bus

ST-WB CD

Students love the song "Wheels on the Bus." This new program brings the bus to life in gorgeous 3-D graphics and animation. Students can sing with the wheels that go round and round, the door that opens and closes, the brakes that go squeak, the wipers that go swish and more. Students can play activities that feature prepositions like in, on and under. Read a story about the bus and a silly bird and play with variations of new vocabulary like swish and squeak. This has a powerful changeable format and data collection.
